SHEEHAN & LEONARD CPAs ENGAGE RELIAVAIL FOR PCI TECHNICAL SUPPORT

WORKING TOGETHER SINCE 2009

SMBs Face PCI Headaches

by ReliAvail I.T. Company

The accounting firm of Sheehan & Leonard (S&L), LLC offers outsourced accounting and payroll services to small and medium businesses in the metropolitan D.C. area, including two of ReliAvail's mutual clients: Arlington, VA-based BOQ Lodging and nearby Executive Apartments USA.

When faced with toughening PCI Compliance regulations, Sheehan & Leonard engaged ReliAvail for PCI technical support.

Toughening PCI Regulations

Recent breaches at major U.S. retailers and small businesses has prompted tougher PCI guidelines and stiffer penalties for non-compliance.

Businesses that accept credit cards are now required to thoroughly evaluate their networks and computer systems, invest in better technology protections, and make sure that they properly train staff on issues of PCI compliance.

In addition, most businesses are now required to engage a third-party Approved Scanning Vendor (ASV) and possibly even a Qualified Security Assessor to identify security vulnerabilities.

When the ASV and/or QSA find issues that prevent PCI Compliance, business owners are often bewildered by technical deficiencies that they are unsure how to resolve.

ReliAvail Solves PCI Issues

Working with Sheehan & Leonard, ReliAvail was able to accomplish key PCI compliance objectives:

- Consolidation of multiple credit card processors into one secured solution
- Coordinating web site updates to eliminate vulnerabilities and PCI compliance findings
- Ongoing monitoring, patching and proactive security posture
- PCI level reclassification to reduce liability and compliance burdens
- Development of internal business process to maintain PCI compliance
